NATIONAL WOMEN'S BUSINESS COUNCIL

ADVISORS TO THE PRESIDENT,
CONGRESS AND THE SBA

Are you a woman business owner?

If so, please join the National Women's Business Council for a discussion of the issues and challenges you face as a woman business owner. Your participation will help the Council, a bi-partisan federal government advisory council, promote women's business ownership and support the 10.4 million women-owned businesses in the United States.

Sessions will allow participants to voice their thoughts and experiences regarding critical policy issues impacting the women's business community. We want to hear about the challenges that you face in attaining financing for your business, providing health care coverage for your employees, acquiring government contracts, and managing your taxes. The meeting will be organized into breakout sessions on these topics, followed by an interactive panel discussion with leaders in the Houston women's business community.

We will take your thoughts back to federal, state and local policymakers as well as leaders in the women's business community who can effect change. Please join us!
